

My name is Cris Farrell, and I am a barista from Johnson City, TN. I am a horror movie fanatic, and I am always searching for the next scariest story. I started school again in January of this year after taking a solid 7 year break. I feel I am now equipped both mentally and financially now to begin my education journey again. I am looking forward to all I get to do at ASU.

